
Every stage is fitted on data strictly earlier than the cohort it is applied to; the test cohort enters only at the final step.